Add here a Title of the Report

Luigi Palopoli
University of Trento
luigi.palopoli@unitn.it

Marco Roveri
University of Trento
marco.roveri@unitn.it

Optional Third Author
University of Trento
name.surname@unitn.it

December 17, 2021

Abstract

This is a suggested template for the report. It is not required to be formatted like this, which is only given as example. However, the structure of the report should be written with this structure in mind. You introduce the document with is structure, then you describe the understanding of the problem, how you addressed the problem, a report of the results with a critical analysis. Finally, conclusions and future works.

Contents

1 Introduction

Here you briefly introduce the problem

2 Understanding of the problem

Here is explaied your understanding of the assignment

3 Design Choices

Here are described the design choices used to solve the assignment, and also reported whether generator scripts are used for some part of the assignment (e.g. to generate problem instances)

4 Results

Here are described the results achieved, with a criticial analysis of them. Moreover, it would be appreciated description of the contents of submitted archive (i.e. how you organized the archive with the solution of the assignment)

5 Conclusions

Here are descvribed in brief the conclusions (i.e. we addressed this problem, we obtained these results) and it would be worth also typically consider what could be future works

References

[Rov21] Marco Roveri. Assignment for the course Automated Planning Theory and Practice Academic Year 2021-2022, Dec 2021.